Reese Bros. offer new inducements to customers this week. See their new ad.

An article from Mr. Trolinger, of Black River, came just a little too late for this week. It will find a place in our next.

G. A. R., Iron Post, No. 346, meets on Thursday, March 8th, at P. M. All members are present who can.

The financial statement for Iron County, for the year ending Jan. 31st, 1888, appears in the REGISTER this week. But it is interesting reading to the tax-payer.

Old Winter's back-bone stiffened to nearly its normal condition last Sunday and Monday. The old chap must have applied a porous plaster to the place where it would do the most good.

A ball will be given at Workman's Hall by the young men of Graniteville on Saturday evening, March 17th. Proceeds for the benefit of the Catholic Church. Admission, per couple, 50 cents.

Hon. J. Ed. F. Edwards, of Kansas City, is in Ironton, visiting his uncle, John F. T. Edwards, and seeing friends in general. Barring a Kansas City cold, John appears to be lively and cheerful, as of yore.

The young ladies of the M. E. Church will give a Pink Tea Party at the Academy of Music next Tuesday evening. Tickets, 10 cents, each, which will admit bearer and also procure him or her a cup of tea and slice of cake.

To W. P. McCarver, Esq., we return thanks for a box of fine cigars. He has a large supply of fine brands at popular prices, and we advise the public to go to the Union Market, not only for cigars or tobacco, but all articles in the grocery line as well.

BORN—At the residence of Judge T. P. Russell, Wednesday, February 22d, 1888, to Mr. and Mrs. Warren Johnson, of Bruno, a son. The young heir was very properly named Geo. Washington at the suggestion of the grandfather, who, to judge by appearance, is as much elated over the happy event as any person connected with it. All are doing well.

The young men of this place are "talking up" the organizing of a military company. Some of them have corresponded with the Adjutant-General of the State, and his replies have encouraged them to go on until the organization is a fact accomplished. We heartily commend the move, and hope soon to chronicle the formation of a company which shall eventually speak well for the city.

A grand ball will be given at the Academy of Music, Ironton, on Friday evening, March 16, under the auspices of Hope Assembly, No. 261, K. of L. Those who desire to have an evening of enjoyment will not forget the date. The "boys" have heretofore shown that they know how to conduct such affairs, and all may rest assured that they will not fall behind in the coming event. Admission, per couple, $1.

Last week the county bought the old Wm. Tong farm, containing about 100 acres. It will be used for a poor farm from this time. The price paid was $3,000, and the property is now in the hands of the county. To our mind there is no question as to the propriety of the purchase, and we believe the sum paid will be saved on the "poor" account in less than four years. That item cost the county twenty-eight hundred dollars last year. We venture the prediction that half the expenditure will not be made this year, with the poor farm in operation.

the mine here—I refer to Mr. Thos. Mylerin. He is seventy-one years of age this month, and works every day as a miner. He is hale and hearty—sickness is unknown to him—and to-day he can make some of the young men ashamed of themselves by his skilled workmanship in striking the drill. Mr. Mylerin was born in the Isle of Mann in 1817, and came to America in 1856, and has worked nearly fifty years in the mines. I do not think he takes any interest in politics, but by his honest looking face I will guarantee the Republican nominee for President his vote in November next.

Con Kinkel has been nursing a genuine case of neuralgia for the last few days.

Miss Lou Middleton, who has been attending telegraph school in the city for the past few months, returned home last Sunday.

Will Craine was among us again one evening last week.

Dr. Farrar has lately come into possession of another fiery and untamed steed.

A number of friends met at Mr. George Post's last Wednesday evening (February 28th) and partook of an elegant supper, which was given as a commemorative of Mr. Post's birthday.

Our agent, J. Yarbrough, was considerably under the weather the first of this week.

A lightning calculator struck the town last Monday and succeeded in convincing some of our local celebrities that they could not figure at all, comparatively speaking.

Work on Cedar has been temporarily suspended and the miners have all returned to work on the Knob.

Richard Searle has quit timbering and with six men is working a scam on the Big Switch getting out soft blue ore.

A runaway on the Shoo-Fry track last Monday, caused by the rock sliding on the drums, has stopped the loading from the cut for a few days.

The new arrangement with the pumps in the shaft has proved a success, since all places are free from water and the pumps going only about a fourth of the former time.

Cards of Thanks.

Ed. Register—We hereby desire to express our sincere thanks to all who have been so kind to us since our recent affliction. The pleasant faces and kind help given have made our pains and burdens more easily borne.

Sincerely,
MRS. MARY JENKINS.

The undersigned desire to express their appreciation of the many kindly acts extending toward their family during the illness and burial of their father, the late Ezra Galuda. This is but feeble acknowledgment, and we trust our friends and neighbors will accept our heartfelt thanks.

JOHN W. GALUDA.
ANN E. AKE.

Ironton, Mo., Feb. 29th, 1888.

Horn—Buried.

MARRIED—Tuesday, February 28th, at 7:30 o'clock P. M., at the residence of the bride's father at Bellevue, Mo., by Rev. J. Hickman, of St. Louis, Mr. JOHN C. HORN to Miss LILLIE BUFORD.

The groom was formerly of Bellevue, but now holds a position at the new mines near Farmington, Mo. He is well-known here and is a most estimable young man, respected and admired by all. The bride is the daughter of Mr. Wm. Buford, of Bellevue, and has just returned from an extended visit to relatives in the East. She will be greatly missed by her friends, especially the church, where she has been organist for the past few years. The bride and groom had no attendants, but the opening strains of the wedding march, performed by Miss Minnie Horn, of Iron Mountain, gave due notice of the approach of the bride and groom.

The ceremony was short, but very impressive. One of the features of this ceremony was, that not a word was said about the wife obeying her husband. Certainly this part of the above will commend it to all the young ladies to such an extent that they will not fail to have Bro. Hickman officiate when they start on a like journey. After having received congratulations, the newly wedded couple left the way to the spacious dining room, where everything that could tempt the appetite was spread.

The bride's costume was a combination of silk and Henrietta cloth. The skirt was made perfectly plain, thereby showing to better advantage the richness of its material, which was blue watered silk, upon the waves of which were thrown spheres of satin shade lighter. The waist and drapery were of cloth, the color being zinc—that extremely faint shade which cannot properly be called pale blue, and yet suggests it, which is not dove gray and yet wants to persuade one that it is, and which eventually succeeds in proving itself to be the most charming mixture of blue and gray imaginable. The tablier was long and much looped. The bodice was very simple in outline. Between its revers of silk was inserted a V-shaped waistcoat of the cloth, entirely overlaid with headed passmenterie, so that the material itself was only visible through the decoration. The bride wore light gray gloves and carried large bouquet of roses. To complete this costume for other occasions is a zinc beaded wrap, lined throughout with rose colored satin, a small bonnet trimmed in ribbon loops and pink roses, bridle of dark blue velvet and buff to match.

Only a few intimate friends and near relatives were present, among whom were Misses Minnie and Fannie Horn and Mr. Jamison, Iron Mountain; Mr. Robert Horn, Bismarck; Mr. and Mrs. Clifton, (nee Lottie Buford), Des Arc; Miss Ella Black, Piedmont; Mr. and Mrs. E. Buford, Ironton; Mrs. Jas. Buford, Mr. and Mrs. Otho Buford, Harry and Jas. Buford, Mr. Blackley, Misses Nanette Barger, Belle Palmer, Minnie and Cora Harrel, Mr. A. J. Palmer, F. D. Barger, T. M. Marr and H. Palmer, of Bellevue. The bride was the recipient of quite a number of presents—more than is usually seen at a small wedding. Every one went away well satisfied, pronouncing it a very nice wedding. I am sure they all join the writer in best wishes for the health and happiness of the bride and groom.

A GUEST.

From Goodland.

Ed. Register—Time speeds along. At this writing we are having quite a thunder storm; the leaves are falling fast and thick from high up in the clouds, showing there has been a heavy wind storm some where. The old people say a thunder storm in the month of February indicates a frost in May.

Born to Mrs. and Mr. Peter Pawley, a boy, on the 17th inst. Should babies become taxable, finance would take a raise in these ends. Another peculiarity is, they are all boys, without one exception. Local option must have cut a figure in the matter.

We are always anxious to see communications from T. P. M. on "Old Times" and other things.

We are very sorry of the unpleasantness between our good brother scribes at Bellevue. Hope they will bury the past and be friends.

We had a trip this week to Belgrade. Spent several hours with Mr. and Mrs. James Woods. They have a very sick daughter, who is under the medical skill of Dr. Goodyear, of Caledonia, Mo.

Your reporter from Belgrade takes little stock in the women and clergy, or at least the average. I have not yet, as he claims, had forty years' experience with either, but twenty-five years' experience has led me to know that the clergy is a safe leader—not speaking of the so-called. As for the women, they have proven themselves worthy of the greatest honors. Every good act is a step further into heaven, and every kind word in the lamp that shows the way to others.

Pomeroy says, "There is sure punishment of some kind for all who wrong their fellow-men, but there is greater punishment to him who wrongs himself by abusing his health and talents, as they are God-given opportunities in the way of capital that our Father gave us for a certain purpose, to neglect which is an insult to Him who gave them. The more kindness shown to those who have wronged us, the more do we prove our true greatness. One flower made to bloom in a field of weeds is far more to our credit than to produce millions of weeds. Every man has a right to think, and to think 'til he is right."

Mr. C. O. Smith and wife have returned from West Plains, Mo., well pleased with their trip.

Mathew Adams is expecting to make an addition to his house this spring.

Samuel Brooks, Jr., is thinking of going to California. Quite a number of citizens from the neighborhood of Belgrade will soon start to California.

The United Baptists near Belgrade are building a new churchhouse. They think it will be ready for use by the middle of May.

No valentines in circulation at Goodland this year.

Ex-Judge J. Mason was at Goodland visiting this week. He is quite feeble in his limbs from rheumatism.

The Adam Brothers have set up and have in operation a basket factory. They are doing a cash business, turning out on an average of two baskets per every six weeks.

Baskets made to order.

U. S. Adams is drawing plats for town lots in Selma, Cal., at $2 per acre. He will soon take a position in the post-office at that place.

Feb. 27, 1888.

Acadia lte s.

All the talk in Acadia now is about the tariff and the strike.

The "Drifter" seems to think Acadia is alive with correspondents. Yes, Mr. "Drifter," we are thicker than fiddlers in the region of Pluto. We stand in the lead when it comes to numbers, but Graniteville goes ahead of us when it comes to names—such names as "Owl" and "Buzzard."

Mr. Davis came up from Piedmont again last Sunday and spent a few hours in town.

Things were made quite lively at the depot the other morning by a little fist affray.

Dr. Robt. Baird made a flying trip to Dunklin county last week.

Miss L. Clarkson has returned from Caledonia where she has been attending school.

Rev. Mr. Pulliam has commenced work at Fort Hill. The people seem to like him very well. He has headquarters at Dr. Farrar's.

Mrs. Harvill and son, Charles, left last Monday Cape Girardeau. They will be gone several weeks.

Hiram N. Baird is on the sick list this week. Mr. John Whitworth is running the store for him.

J. M. Ringo, after spending the winter in Acadia, has returned to Mississippi county.

Mr. Nations, fireman on the pusher, is soon to move from Ironton to Acadia.

Mrs. J. G. Clarkson has gone to St. Louis, where she expects to remain several weeks.

Geo. Tual, Esq., after an extended trip throughout the wild west, has returned to Acadia.

The "Kids" had a leap year frolic at Mrs. Medley's last Wednesday night. They all had a pleasant time, and want Mrs. M. to let them have another one soon.

I guess this town will come up minus on summer resorts this year. Last summer Mrs. Peck accommodated about twenty-five sojourners, but this summer there will be no accommodations at all. They will either be compelled to stay at home or go to Ironton.

Mr. Editor, do you have any gossip over your little town? We have plenty of it here in our town. There are some, it seems, who are contenting as to which one can say the meanest thing about his neighbor—then eat him up with friendship on first sight.

The "good book" says the tongue is the unruly member; so you see how true this is sometimes.

I have been waiting on "Uncle Isaac" or some of the other pious brethren to name a man for governor, but it seems they are backward about doing so. Now, as no one has, as yet, been mentioned by any of our correspondents, I guess I'll break the ice.

I name Hon. D. R. Francis, of St. Louis. Mr. Francis has made a good record as mayor of his city. He is an energetic man, and a man who is wide awake to the interests of his people. It was mainly through him that Missouri is to be honored with the Democratic national convention. Come, now, fellow citizens, bring up all your men and let's talk the matter over. Don't wait 'til convention day and let a few voices the sentiment of the whole county. I think Acadia will be solid for Francis. How about your town, "Uncle Isaac?" And how about your town, "Buzard?" Trot out your men now and let's see what the people say.

UNCLE JOHN.

From Bellevue.

Ed. Register—It seems that Bellevue has not been so well represented in the last few weeks as it was previous to that time. I am not able to say when we may have another storm, as no warning is expected.

Hon. W. T. Crocker passed through our place this week with a smile on about one yard long and still to be continued.

Mrs. Sutton moved her family to the lead mines this week to try their fortune.

Chas. and Jim Middleton have taken up their abode at Iron Mountain for an indefinite time.

Quite a large number of our citizens started for California this week. May they succeed in their attempts to try and make a fortune and prosper in everything they undertake, is our wish to them.

The wedding that was mentioned two weeks ago is over. The contracting parties were Mr. John Horn and Miss Lillie Buford, understand a gentleman of our vicinity, who was present, will give you a full account of the wedding, so will not dwell on that as one will be sufficient.

Miss Emma Paulus, of near Cold Water, Wayne county, Mo., is in our town ready to be enrolled in the high school. This makes three or four new students within the last week.

Miss Mary Walden has gone to Bismarck on a visit to relatives.

Wm. Rayfield and R. Black, of near Leesville, were in our town this week on business.

There was quite a large crowd out at the funeral of Dr. Gentry Thomas on last Saturday
